

Child Care Services Certification

Winter 2018

Did You Know ...?

I have received my certification from the Association of Early Childhood Educators of Newfoundland & Labrador (AECENL) office does that mean that I am an AECENL member?

No, when you receive your Child Care Services Certification you are not an automatic member of AECENL. Certification and AECENL membership are separate. The AECENL membership form can be found at the end of this newsletter.

AECENL is the professional association for Early Childhood Educators of Newfoundland & Labrador. The association has a service agreement with the Provincial Government to deliver Child Care Services Certification and Orientation Courses.

The AECENL membership is done on an annual basis, when you become an AECENL member you also become a member of the Canadian Child Care Federation (CCCF) automatically. There are many other direct benefits to being a member:

- one hour of PL towards the requirements for certification renewal
- coupon for free one free AECENL online workshop
- email notifications of upcoming PL events and webinars (members receive information first)
- membership to Perkopolis an online discount program that provides exclusive discounts on products and services across Canada.
- discounts at Michael's (15%), Grand & Toy (60% and you can order online), Magenta Insurance and we are working on more...
- AECENL updates and CCCF publications
- reduced rates to the annual AECENL provincial and regional conferences
- reduced rates at CCCF conferences
- free (or reduced rates) for workshops and social events
- You can be eligible to receive recognition for your service (5+ years) through our annual service recognition award acknowledgment and pin

Changes to Certification - General Highlights:

It is strongly recommended to read the new Child Care and Policy Manual (<http://www.ed.gov.nl.ca/edu/family/childcare/resources.html>) as this document helps to explain the regulations and has also replaced several of the provincial standards publications: Standards for ECE Programs in Centre-Based Child Care; Centre-Based Infant Care-Guide to Program Standard; Standards for School-Age Child Care; Standards and Guidelines for Health in Child Care Settings and the Outdoor Play Area Standards Manual for Centre-Based Child Care.

Certification Application Forms

There has been some changes to the Initial, Reissue and Renewal Application Forms:

- Each form now comes with a checklist to help you complete your forms
- The Reissue and Renewal forms are now two separate forms
- The Renewal Form has the most changes as it is now broken down by what level/classification of certification you currently hold
- Do not print and save forms to use for a later date, always print your forms from our website www.aecenl.ca at the time that you need to use it or you run the risk of it being returned
- Make sure that the whole application form is completed, that all pages are included and required documentation is attached before sending.

For new people coming into child care once they have submitted their initial application form if they are to be awarded trainee level they will be required to submit proof of registration into a provincially recognized post-secondary ECE program before the certification can be issued depending on the application the individual may also need to complete an orientation course through AECENL.

Equivalency

In order to receive level 1 certification or a higher level you will need to submit a copy of your official certificate/diploma/degree from a provincially recognized post-secondary institution or a transcript indicating that graduation has been awarded from a provincially recognized post-secondary institution. If an individual has completed all course requirements for a level of certification but has not met graduation requirements from the post-secondary institution the individual may be eligible to be awarded the level under the equivalency policy. Effective May 1st, 2018 to be considered eligible all required course work from a provincially recognized post-secondary institution must be submitted and each course must be completed with a final grade of 65% or higher.

Certification Renewal Requirements

Child Care Centre or Family Home Level 1-4: Renew every 3 years – requires 30 PL hours along with a renewal application (if lapsed will need to provide 36 PL hours plus 1 PL hour for every month lapsed up to 60PL hours). If you hold a combination of certification levels (e.g. Child Care Centre Level 3 School-Age with Child Care Centre Trainee Level Preschool) your renewal requirements are based on the lowest level of certification held.

Entry Level (Individuals may still hold valid Entry Level if it was awarded prior to July 31st, 2017): will require 30 PL hours to renew along with a renewal application, once renewed will become Trainee Level which will be renewed each year – requirements will depend on the classification of the Trainee Level (see below)

Child Care Centre-Trainee Level Preschool and/or School-Age: Renew each year-requires a minimum 2 ECE courses from a provincially recognized post-secondary institution along with a renewal application (if lapsed will need to provide additional ECE coursework). It should be noted that even though the requirement for renewal is 2 ECE courses annually the individual may need to complete more than 2 ECE courses annually in order to complete the ECE Certificate in the allotted amount of time.

Family Home-Trainee Level-Mixed Age Group or Child Care Centre-Trainee Level Preschool and/or School-Age that has been grandparented (valid Entry Level for 10 years prior to July 31st 2017): Renew each year-requires 10 PL hours along with a renewal application (if lapsed will need to provide 12 PL hours plus 1 PL hour for every month lapsed up to 60 PL hours)

If you wait to be renewed either on or after your “valid until” date you are considered lapsed and will require to renew with additional PL hours. To avoid becoming lapsed and not being able to work you need to submit your completed renewal application package to the AECENL office 1 to 2 months before your “valid until date (expiry date).
